What is the Purpose of This Project? Please describe Project.	Please tell a story. Example of bad description for the literacy project. Increase literacy in Madison. A good description utilizes the criteria and provides background information. This is YOUR project. Take pride in it and tell us about it! Note literacy IS humanitarian in nature. In general, Madison has a literacy rate of 96%. However, in the group of children at 200% of the poverty level, the rate plummets to 85%. Studies have shown that getting books into the hands of children by the age of 6 increases literacy rates by 35% in the target population. The goal of this project is to get 2 books into the hands of every child ages 5-7 at or below the 200% poverty level in Madison. There are 5000 children in this target population, requiring raising of funds for 10,000 books to be distributed. The Rotary Club will be soliciting help from a variety of community clubs (evidence of public participation) and individuals to make this project happen. Local officials will also be involved in aiding us finalize the list of recipients. We expect this will increase the literacy rate, providing each of those children with greater means with which to meet the future. What will the Rotarians do? What is their involvement? In our club of 50, we expect that over 50% of the club will be actively participating in this project. At least five will be soliciting area bookstores for new books. We will also be asking the people of Madison to donate at a variety of drop off locations and expect many of our members to participate. In addition to receiving donations, we will also be purchasing books from local retailers. All funds will be disseminated through our Rotary club. (Note oversight of grant funds) Once the books have been received, several of our members will coordinate the distribution of all books to all children.
Is this Project?	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Local Community <input type="checkbox"/> International Community
How will this project meet the needs of the community?	Reiterate the need. Saying "it will improve the literacy rate" is not enough. As noted, there is a great need in the community to increase the literacy rate, especially that of poorer students. Area parents in this target group have asked for ways in which they can help improve their situation. Our Rotary club is proud to take up the cause and we believe this project will enhance understanding of Rotary as well as improve the literacy rate. (Note development of stronger Rotary network)
